EXHIBITIONS, NEW NATIONS AND THE HUMAN FACTOR, 1873–1939

4–5 APRIL 2022

The conference on world’s fairs and international exhibitions looks beyond their official, state-sponsored aims and considers the role of individuals and groups in them. Who were the people who organised them, designed them, worked in them and visited them? It places agency at the heart of the discussion. To what extent did those involved adhere to or challenge the ostensible purpose of these events?
